				Explore how language is used differently at home and school depending on the relationships between people (ACELA1428) 	Language for interaction * Learning that language varies according to the relationships between people, for example between parent and child, teacher and student, siblings, friends, shopkeepers and customers  * Learning that we use a different tone and style of language with different people  * Learning to ask relevant questions and to express requests and opinions in ways that suit different contexts 	Respond to texts, identifying favourite stories, authors and illustrators (ACELT1577)  * Talking about stories and authors, choosing favourites, discussing how students feel about what happens in stories  * Engaging with the humour in some stories and repeating favourite lines, jokes and ideas  * Returning to preferred texts and commenting on reasons for selection 	Listen to and respond orally to texts and to the communication of others in informal and structured classroom situations (ACELY1646)  * Listening to, remembering and following simple instructions  * Sequencing ideas in spoken texts, retelling well known stories, retelling stories with picture cues, retelling information using story maps  * Listening for specific things, for example the main idea of a short statement, the details of a story, or to answer a given question  * Participating in informal situations, for example play-based experiences which involve the imaginative use of spoken language  * Participating in class, group and pair discussions about shared experiences including shared texts  * Asking and answering questions to clarify understanding
				Understand that language can be used to explore ways of expressing needs, likes and dislikes (ACELA1429) 	Text structure and organisation * Recognising some of the ways we can use speech, gesture, writing and media to communicate feelings  * Recognising some of the ways emotions and feelings can be conveyed and influenced by visual representations, for example in advertising and animations 	Share feelings and thoughts about the events and characters in texts (ACELT1783)  * Talking about stories and authors, choosing favourites, discussing how students feel about what happens in stories  * Using art forms and beginning forms of writing to express personal responses to literature and film experiences  * Talking about people, events and ideas in texts, enabling students to connect them to their own experiences and to express their own opinions about what is depicted 	Use interaction skills including listening while others speak, using appropriate voice levels, articulation and body language, gestures and eye contact (ACELY1784)  * Learning how to use different voice levels appropriate to a situation, for example learning about 'inside voices' and 'outside voices'  * Learning to ask questions and provide answers that are more than one or two words  * Participating in speaking and listening situations, exchanging ideas with peers in pairs and small groups and engaging in class discussions, listening to others and contributing ideas  * Showing understanding of appropriate listening behaviour, such as listening without interrupting, and looking at the speaker if culturally appropriate  * Listening and responding to oral and multimodal texts including rhymes and poems, texts read aloud and various types of digital texts  * Engaging in conversations with peers and adults in home language or dialect  * Asking and answering questions using appropriate intonation  * Speaking so that the student can be heard and understood  * Altering volume for inside and outside situations and when speaking to an audience
				Understands that texts can take many forms, can be very short (for example an exit sign) or quite long (for example an information book or a film) and that stories and informative texts have different purposes (ACELA1430) 	Examining literature * Sharing experiences of different texts and discussing some differences  * Discussing the purpose of texts, for example 'This text will tell a story', 'This text will give information'  * Repeating parts of texts, for example characteristic refrains, predicting cumulative storylines, reciting poetic and rhyming phrases 	Identify some features of texts including events and characters and retell events from a text (ACELT1578)  * Identifying some features of culture related to characters and events in literary texts, for example dress, food and daily routines  * Listening, responding to and joining in with rhymes, poems, chants and songs 	Use interaction skills including listening while others speak, using appropriate voice levels, articulation and body language, gestures and eye contact (ACELY1784)  * Learning how to use different voice levels appropriate to a situation, for example learning about 'inside voices' and 'outside voices'  * Learning to ask questions and provide answers that are more than one or two words  * Participating in speaking and listening situations, exchanging ideas with peers in pairs and small groups and engaging in class discussions, listening to others and contributing ideas  * Showing understanding of appropriate listening behaviour, such as listening without interrupting, and looking at the speaker if culturally appropriate  * Listening and responding to oral and multimodal texts including rhymes and poems, texts read aloud and various types of digital texts  * Engaging in conversations with peers and adults in home language or dialect  * Asking and answering questions using appropriate intonation  * Speaking so that the student can be heard and understood  * Altering volume for inside and outside situations and when speaking to an audience

Foundation				Expressing and developing ideas			Interpreting, analysing, evaluating
				Recognises that texts are made up of words and groups of words that make meaning   W L S R	* Exploring spoken, written and multimodal texts and identifying elements, for example words and images  		Identify some differences between imaginative and informative texts (ACELY1648)   L S	* Talking about what is 'real' and what is imagined in texts   * Identifying and selecting texts for information purposes and commenting on how the text might help with a task
				Recognises that sentences are key units for expressing ideas (ACELA1435)   W L S R	* Learning that word order in sentences is important for meaning (for example 'The boy sat on the dog', 'The dog sat on the boy')   * Creating students' own written texts and reading aloud to the teacher and others  		Read predictable texts, practising phrasing and fluency, and monitor meaning using concepts about print and emerging contextual, semantic, grammatical and phonic knowledge (ACELY1649)   R	* Navigating a text correctly, starting at the right place and reading in the right direction, returning to the next line as needed, matching one spoken word to one written word   * Reading aloud with attempts at fluency and intonation   * Attempting to work out unknown words by combining contextual, semantic, grammatical and phonic knowledge   * Predicting what might happen on the basis of experience of this kind of text; at the sentence level predicting the meaning on the basis of syntax and word meaning
				Explores the different contribution of words and images to meaning in stories and informative texts (ACELA1786)   R	* Talking about how a 'different' story is told if we read only the words, or only the pictures; and the story that words and pictures make when combined   * Exploring how the combination of print and images in texts creates meaning  		Use comprehension strategies to understand and discuss texts listened to, viewed or read independently (ACELY1650)    L S R	* Talking about the meanings in texts listened to, viewed and read   * Visualising elements in a text (for example drawing an event or character from a text read aloud)   * Providing a simple, correctly sequenced retelling of narrative texts   * Relating one or two key facts from informative texts   * Finding a key word in a text to answer a literal question   * Making links between events in a text and students' own experiences    * Making an inference about a character's feelings    * Discussing and sequencing events in stories    * Drawing events in sequence, recognising that for some Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander stories the sequence of events may be cyclical
				Understand the use of vocabulary in familiar contexts related to everyday experiences, personal interests and topics taught at school (ACELA1437)    W L S R	* Building vocabulary through multiple speaking and listening experiences   * Discussing new vocabulary found in texts   * Bringing vocabulary from personal experiences, relating this to new experiences and building a vocabulary for thinking and talking about school topics
				Know that spoken sounds and words can be written down using letters of the alphabet and how to write some high-frequency sight words and known words (ACELA1758)   R	* Recognising the most common sound made by each letter of the alphabet, including consonants and short vowel sounds   * Writing consonant-vowel-consonant words by writing letters to represent the sounds in the spoken words   * Knowing that spoken words are written down by listening to the sounds heard in the word and then writing letters to represent those sounds
				Know how to use onset and rime to spell words (ACELA1438)   R	* Breaking words into onset and rime, for example c/at  * Building word families using onset and rime, for example h/ot, g/ot, n/ot, sh/ot, sp/ot
				Sound and letter knowledge
				Recognise rhymes, syllables and sounds (phonemes) in spoken words (ACELA1439)   L S R	* Listening to the sounds a student hears in the word, and writing letters to represent those sounds   * Identifying rhyme and syllables in spoken words   * Identifying and manipulating sounds (phonemes) in spoken words   * Identifying onset and rime in one-syllable spoken words
				Recognises the letters of the alphabet and know there are lower and upper case letters (ACELA1440)   W R	* Identifying familiar and recurring letters and the use of upper and lower case in written texts in the classroom and community   * Using familiar and common letters in handwritten and digital communications   		Creating texts
				Create short texts to explore, record and report ideas and events using familiar words and beginning writing knowledge (ACELY1651)   S R			* Using image making and beginning writing to represent characters and events in written, film and web-based texts    * Using speaking, writing and drawing to represent and communicate personal responses to ideas and events experienced through texts    * Creating short spoken, written and multimodal observations, recounts and descriptions, extending vocabulary and including some content-specific words in spoken and written texts   * Using beginning concepts about print, sound-letter and word knowledge and punctuation to create short texts
							Participate in shared editing of students' own texts for meaning, spelling, capital letters and full stops (ACELY1652)    W		* Rereading collaboratively developed texts to check that they communicate what the authors intended

Foundation						Produce some lower case and upper case letters using learned letter formations (ACELY1653) 	Adopting correct posture and pencil grip <ul style="list-style-type: none">* Learning to produce simple handwriting movements* Following clear demonstrations of how to construct each letter (for example where to start; which direction to write)* Learning to construct lower case letters and to combine these into words* Learning to construct some upper case letters
						Construct texts using software including word processing programs (ACELY1654) 	* Using simple functions of keyboard and mouse including typing letters, scrolling, selecting icons and drop-down menu
Foundation Year Achievement Standard 	Receptive modes (listening, reading and viewing)
	Students use predicting and questioning strategies to make meaning from texts.
	They recall one or two events from texts with familiar topics.
	They understand that there are different types of texts and that these can have similar characteristics.
	They identify connections between texts and their personal experience.
	They read short predictable texts with familiar vocabulary and supportive images, drawing on their developing knowledge of concepts about print and sound and letters.
	They identify the letters of the English alphabet and use the sounds represented by most letters.
	They listen for rhyme, letter patterns and sounds in words.
	They listen to and use appropriate language features to respond to others in a familiar environment.
	Productive modes (speaking, writing and creating)
	Students understand that their texts can reflect their own experiences.
	They identify and describe likes and dislikes about familiar texts, objects, characters and events.
	In informal group and whole class settings, students communicate clearly.
	They retell events and experiences with peers and known adults.
	They identify and use rhyme, letter patterns and sounds in words.
	When writing, students use familiar words and phrases and images to convey ideas.
	Their writing shows evidence of sound and letter knowledge, beginning writing behaviours and experimentation with capital letters and full stops.
	They correctly form known upper- and lower-case letters.

				Language for interaction	Understand that language is used in combination with other means of communication, for example facial expressions and gestures to interact with others	* Recognising the effect of words, symbols, gestures and body language on the way communications are received by others	Responding to literature	Discuss characters and events in a range of literary texts and share personal responses to these texts, making connections with students’ own experiences	* Discussing characters from books and films and whether these are life-like or imaginary (for example talking animals) * Comparing characters and events in texts to students’ own experiences	Interacting with others	Engage in conversations and discussions, using active listening behaviours, showing interest, and contributing ideas, information and questions	* Listening for details in spoken informative texts * Participating in informal and structured class, group and pair discussions about content area topics, ideas and information * Speaking clearly and with appropriate volume * Interacting confidently and appropriately with peers, teachers, visitors and community members * Learning to value listening, questioning and positive body language and understanding that different cultures may approach these differently * Formulating different types of questions to ask a speaker, such as open and closed questions and ‘when’, ‘why’ and ‘how’ questions
					Understand that there are different ways of asking for information, making offers and giving commands	* Learning the difference between questions and statements, requests and commands * Learning about the difference between closed questions, for example ‘Are you ready?’, ‘Did they enjoy their holidays?’ and open questions, for example ‘What made this text so exciting?’		Express preferences for specific texts and authors and listen to the opinions of others	* Sharing favourite texts and authors and some reasons for preferences * Discussing different texts and considering what is entertaining or appealing * Using arts methods and role play to express personal responses to characters and events in stories * Identifying who is telling the story in different texts	Use interaction skills including turn-taking, recognising the contributions of others, speaking clearly and using appropriate volume and pace	* Identifying turn-taking patterns in group and pair work (for example initiating a topic, changing a topic when appropriate, staying on task, supporting other speakers, eliciting responses, being supportive and attentive listeners, asking relevant questions, providing useful feedback, prompting, checking understanding, ‘sharing the talking space’) * Participating in pair, group and class speaking and listening situations, including informal conversations and class discussions, contributing ideas and listening to the contributions of others * Taking turns, asking and answering questions and attempting to involve others in discussions * Demonstrating active listening behaviour and responding to what others say in pair, group and class discussions * Experimenting with voice volume and pace for particular purposes including making presentations, retelling stories and reciting rhymes and poems * Attempting correct pronunciation of new vocabulary
					Explore different ways of expressing emotions, including verbal, visual, body language and facial expressions	* Extending students’ vocabularies for the expression of feelings and emotions * Considering how others might respond before students express their views and how students might respond to others’ views in civil and constructive ways
				Text structure and organisation	Understand that the purposes texts serve shape their structure in predictable ways	* Discussing and comparing the purposes of familiar texts drawn from local contexts and interests * Becoming familiar with the typical stages of types of text including recount and procedure * Using different types of texts, for example procedures (including recipes) and discussing the text structure	Examining literature	Discuss features of plot, character and setting in different types of literature and explore some features of characters in different texts	* Examining different types of literature including traditional tales, humorous stories and poetry * Discussing similarities and differences between texts (for example features of main characters in different stories) * Discussing features of book settings including time (level, season) and place (country or city, realistic or imagined) * Discussing how plots develop including: beginnings (orientation), how the problem (complication) is introduced and solved (resolution)
					Understand patterns of repetition and contrast in simple texts	* Identifying patterns of vocabulary items in texts (for example class/subclass patterns, part/whole patterns, compare/contrast patterns, cause-and-effect patterns, word associations/collocation) * Discussing different types of texts and identifying some characteristic features and elements (for example language patterns and repetition) in stories and poetry		Listen to, recite and perform poems, chants, rhymes and songs, imitating and inventing sound patterns including alliteration and rhyme	* Exploring performance poetry, chants and songs from Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples and Asian cultures * Listening to and performing simple haiku poems about familiar topics such as nature and the seasons	Make short presentations using some introduced text structures and language, for example opening statements	* Reporting the results of group discussions * Providing simple explanations about how to do or make something * Giving short oral presentations about areas of interest or content area topics, speaking clearly and with appropriate volume and using extended vocabulary and a growing knowledge of content-specific words

Year 1				Recognise that different types of punctuation, including full stops, question marks and exclamation marks, signal sentences that make statements, ask questions, express emotion or give commands (ACELA1449)   W L S R	* Using intonation and pauses in response to punctuation when reading   * Heading texts and identifying different sentence-level punctuation   * Writing different types of sentences, for example statements and questions, and discussing appropriate punctuation  	Recreate texts imaginatively using drawing, writing, performance and digital forms of communication (ACELT1586)     W L S R	Creating literature * Creating visual representations of literary texts from Aboriginal, Torres Strait Islander or Asian cultures     AA * Writing character descriptions drawn from illustrations in stories   * Retelling key events in stories using oral language, arts, digital technologies and performance media    	Interpreting, analysing, evaluating Describe some differences between imaginative, informative and persuasive texts (ACELY1658)   L S R	* Comparing and discussing texts identifying some features that distinguish those that 'tell stories' from those that 'give opinions'    * Selecting texts for a particular purpose or task, for example a website that will give information about whales, a book that will tell a story about a possum
				Understand concepts about print and screen, including how different types of texts are organised using page numbering, tables of content, headings and titles, navigation buttons, bars and links (ACELA1450)      W R	* Learning about how books and digital texts are organised including page numbers, table of contents, headings, images with captions and the use of scrolling to access digital texts     			Read supportive texts using developing phrasing, fluency, contextual, semantic, grammatical and phonic knowledge and emerging text processing strategies, for example prediction, monitoring meaning and rereading (ACELY1659)   R	* Using contextual and semantic knowledge to make predictions about a text's purpose and content   * Combining knowledge of context, meaning, grammar and phonics to decode text   * Recognising most high frequency sight words when reading text   * Self-correcting when reading does not make sense, using pictures, context, meaning, phonics and grammatical knowledge    * Reading aloud with developing fluency and intonation
				Expressing and developing ideas
				Identify the parts of a simple sentence that represent 'What's happening?', 'What state is being described?', 'Who or what is involved?' and the surrounding circumstances (ACELA1451)   W R	* Knowing that, in terms of meaning, a basic clause represents: a happening or a state (verb), who or what is involved (noun group/phrase), and the surrounding circumstances (adverb group/phrase)   * Understanding that a simple sentence expresses a single idea, represented grammatically by a single independent clause (for example 'A kangaroo is a mammal. A mammal suckles its young')
				Explore differences in words that represent people, places and things (nouns, including pronouns), happenings and states (verbs), qualities (adjectives) and details such as when, where and how (adverbs) (ACELA1452)   W L S R	* Talking about effective words that describe a place, person or event   * Learning how a sentence can be made more vivid by adding adjectives, adverbs and unusual verbs
				Compare different kinds of images in narrative and informative texts and discuss how they contribute to meaning (ACELA1453)   S	* Talking about what is 'real' and what is imagined in texts, for example 'This is the section about platypuses in the book about mammals'
				Understand the use of vocabulary in everyday contexts as well as a growing number of school contexts, including appropriate use of formal and informal terms of address in different contexts (ACELA1454)    W L S R	* Learning forms of address for visitors and how to use language appropriately to ask directions and for information, for example on excursions
				Know that regular one-syllable words are made up of letters and common letter clusters that correspond to the sounds heard, and how to use visual memory to write high-frequency words (ACELA1778)   S	* Writing one-syllable words containing known blends, for example 'bl', 'st'  * Learning an increasing number of high frequency sight words recognised in shared texts and in texts being read independently (for example 'one', 'have', 'them', 'about')
						Creating texts
						Create short imaginative and informative texts that show emerging use of appropriate text structure, sentence-level grammar, word choice, spelling, punctuation and appropriate multimodal elements, for example illustrations and diagrams (ACELY1661)   W	* Referring to learned knowledge of text structure and grammar when creating a new text   * Applying new vocabulary appropriately in creating text   * Learning how to plan spoken and written communications so that listeners and readers might follow the sequence of ideas or events   * Beginning to consider audience in designing a communication involving visual components, selecting images for maximum impact
						Reread student's own texts and discuss possible changes to improve meaning, spelling and punctuation (ACELY1662)    R	* Adding or deleting words on page or screen to improve meaning, for example adding an adjective to a noun   * Reading the students' own work aloud to listen for grammatical correctness: checking use of capital letters, full stops, question marks and exclamation marks   * Checking for inclusion of capital letters and full stops   * Identifying words which might not be spelt correctly   * Beginning to use dictionaries and classroom charts to check and correct spelling of less familiar words

	Year 1 Achievement Standard	Receptive modes (listening, reading and viewing)
By the end of Year 1, students understand the different purposes of texts.
They make connections to personal experience when explaining characters and main events in short texts.
They identify the language features, images and vocabulary used to describe characters and events.
Students read aloud, with developing fluency and intonation, short texts with some unfamiliar vocabulary, simple and compound sentences and supportive images.
When reading, they use knowledge of sounds and letters, high frequency words, sentence boundary punctuation and directionality to make meaning.
They recall key ideas and recognise literal and implied meaning in texts.
They listen to others when taking part in conversations, using appropriate language features.
They listen for and reproduce letter patterns and letter clusters.
Productive modes (speaking, writing and creating)
Students understand how characters in texts are developed and give reasons for personal preferences.
They create texts that show understanding of the connection between writing, speech and images.
They create short texts for a small range of purposes.
They interact in pair, group and class discussions, taking turns when responding.
They make short presentations of a few connected sentences on familiar and learned topics.
When writing, students provide details about ideas or events.
They accurately spell words with regular spelling patterns and use capital letters and full stops.
They correctly form all upper- and lower-case letters.

	By the end of Year 2, students understand how similar texts share characteristics by identifying text structures and language features used to describe characters, settings and events.
	They read texts that contain varied sentence structures, some unfamiliar vocabulary, a significant number of high frequency sight words and images that provide additional information.
	They monitor meaning and self-correct using context, prior knowledge, punctuation, language and phonic knowledge.
	They identify literal and implied meaning, main ideas and supporting detail.
	Students make connections between texts by comparing content.
	They listen for particular purposes.
	They listen for and manipulate sound combinations and rhythmic sound patterns.
	Productive modes (speaking, writing and creating)
	When discussing their ideas and experiences, students use everyday language features and topic specific vocabulary.
	They explain their preferences for aspects of texts using other texts as comparisons.
	They create texts that show how images support the meaning of the text.
	Students create texts, drawing on their own experiences, their imagination and information they have learned.
Students use a variety of strategies to engage in group and class discussions and make presentations.
They accurately spell familiar words and attempt to spell less familiar words and use punctuation accurately.
They legibly write unjoined upper- and lower-case letters.

				Understand how texts are made cohesive through the use of: pronouns that link to something previously mentioned; determiners (for example ‘this’, ‘that’, ‘these’, ‘those’, ‘the’); text connectives that create links between sentences (for example ‘however’, ‘therefore’, ‘nevertheless’, ‘in addition’, ‘by contrast’, ‘in summary’) (ACELA1491)   W L S R	* Knowing how authors construct text that are cohesive and coherent through the use of: pronouns that link to something previously mentioned; determiners (for example ‘this’, ‘that’, ‘these’, ‘those’, ‘the’); text connectives that create links between sentences (for example ‘however’, ‘therefore’, ‘nevertheless’, ‘in addition’, ‘by contrast’, ‘in summary’)   * Identifying how participants are tracked through a text by, for example, using pronouns to refer back to noun groups/phrases   * Describing how texts connectives link sections of a text providing sequences through time, for example ‘firstly’, ‘then’, ‘next’, and ‘finally’  	Examining literature Understand, interpret and experiment with a range of devices and deliberate word play in poetry and other literary texts, for example nonsense words, spoonerisms, neologisms and puns (ACELT1606)   W L S R	* Defining spoonerisms, neologisms and puns and exploring how they are used by authors to create a sense of freshness, originality and playfulness   * Discussing poetic language, including unusual adjectival use and how it engages us emotionally and brings to life the poet’s subject matter (for example ‘He grasps the crag with crooked hands/wee timorous beastie’)    	Identify characteristic features used in imaginative, informative and persuasive texts to meet the purpose of the text (ACELY1690)   W L S R	* Describing the language which authors use to create imaginary worlds; how textual features such as headings, subheadings, bold type and graphic organisers are used to order and present information, and how visual codes are used, for example those used in advertising to represent children and families so that viewers identify with them
				Recognise how quotation marks are used in texts to signal dialogue, titles and quoted (direct) speech (ACELA1492)   W R	* Exploring texts to identify the use of quotation marks   * Experimenting with the use of quotation marks in students’ own writing  	Creating literature Create literary texts that explore students’ own experiences and imagining (ACELT1607)    W L S R	* Drawing upon literary texts students have encountered and experimenting with changing particular aspects, for example the time or place of the setting, adding characters or changing their personalities, or offering an alternative point of view on key ideas  	Read different types of texts by combining contextual , semantic, grammatical and phonic knowledge using text processing strategies for example monitoring meaning, cross checking and reviewing (ACELY1691)   R	* Reading new and different kinds of texts with the use of established word identification strategies, including knowledge of the topic and of text type together with self monitoring strategies; including rereading, self questioning and pausing, and including self correction strategies such confirming and cross-checking   * Reading aloud with fluency and expression    * Reading a wide range of different types of texts for pleasure
				Identify features of online texts that enhance readability including text, navigation, links, graphics and layout (ACELA1793)    R	* Participating in online searches for information using navigation tools and discussing similarities and differences between print and digital information   	Creating literature Create literary texts by developing storylines, characters and settings (ACELT1794)   W L S R	* Collaboratively plan, compose, sequence and prepare a literary text along a familiar storyline, using film, sound and images to convey setting, characters and points of drama in the plot

Year 4				Expressing and developing ideas Understand that the meaning of sentences can be enriched through the use of noun groups/phrases and verb groups/phrases and prepositional phrases (ACELA1493)   W L S R Investigate how quoted (direct) and reported (indirect) speech work in different types of text (ACELA1494)   W L S R Understand how adverb groups/phrases and prepositional phrases work in different ways to provide circumstantial details about an activity (ACELA1495)   W L S R Explore the effect of choices when framing an image, placement of elements in the image, and salience on composition of still and moving images in a range of types of texts (ACELA1496)   R Incorporate new vocabulary from a range of sources into students' own texts including vocabulary encountered in research (ACELA1498)   W L S R Understand how to use strategies for spelling words, including spelling rules, knowledge of morphemic word families, spelling generalisations, and letter combinations including double letters (ACELA1779)   W R Recognise homophones and know how to use context to identify correct spelling (ACELA1780)   R * Creating richer, more specific descriptions through the use of noun groups/phrases (for example, in narrative texts, 'their very old Siamese cat'; in reports, 'its extremely high mountain ranges')   * Investigating examples of quoted (direct) speech ('He said, 'I'll go to the park today') and reported (indirect) speech ('He told me he was going to the park today') and comparing similarities and differences   * Investigating in texts how adverb group/phrases and prepositional phrases can provide details of the circumstances surrounding a happening or state (for example, 'At midnight (time) he rose slowly (manner) from the chair (place) and went upstairs (place)'   * Examining visual and multimodal texts, building a vocabulary to describe visual elements and techniques such as framing, composition and visual point of view and beginning to understand how these choices impact on viewer response   * Building etymological knowledge about word origins (for example 'thermometer') and building vocabulary from research about technical and subject specific topics   * Using phonological knowledge (for example long vowel patterns in multi-syllabic words); consonant clusters (for example 'straight', 'throat', 'screen', 'squawk')   * Using visual knowledge, for example diphthongs in more complex words and other vowel sounds that have multiple representations in spelling, as in 'oy', 'oi', 'ou', 'ow', 'ould', 'u', 'ough', 'au', 'aw'); silent beginning consonant patterns, (for example 'gn' and 'kn')   * Applying generalisations, for example doubling (for example 'running'); 'e'-drop (for example 'hoping')   * Using meaning and context when spelling words (for example when differentiating between homophones such as 'to', 'too', 'two')  	Use comprehension strategies to build literal and inferred meaning to expand content knowledge, integrating and linking ideas and analysing and evaluating texts (ACELY1692)    W L S R Making connections between the text and students' own experience and other texts    Making connections between information in print and images   Building and using prior knowledge and vocabulary   Finding specific literal information   Asking and answering questions   Creating mental images   Finding the main idea of a text   Inferring meaning from the ways communication occurs in digital environments including the interplay between words, images, and sounds    Bringing subject and technical vocabulary and concept knowledge to new reading tasks, selecting and using texts for their pertinence to the task and the accuracy of their information
					Creating texts Plan, draft and publish imaginative, informative and persuasive texts containing key information and supporting details for a widening range of audiences, demonstrating increasing control over text structures and language features (ACELY1694)   W * Using research from print and digital resources to gather ideas, integrating information from a range of sources; selecting text structure and planning how to group ideas into paragraphs to sequence content, and choosing vocabulary to suit topic and communication purpose    * Using appropriate simple, compound and complex sentences to express and combine ideas   * Using grammatical features including different types of verb groups/phrases, noun groups/phrases, adverb groups/phrases and prepositional phrases for effective descriptions as related to purpose and context (for example, development of a character's actions or a description in a report)   Reread and edit for meaning by adding, deleting or moving words or word groups to improve content and structure (ACELY1695)   R Revising written texts: editing for grammatical and spelling accuracy and clarity of the text, to improve the connection between ideas and the overall flow of the piece   Write using clearly formed joined letters, and develop increased fluency and automaticity (ACELY1696)  W Using handwriting fluency with speed for a wide range of tasks  Use a range of software including word processing programs to construct, edit and publish written text, and select, edit and place visual, print and audio elements (ACELY1697)    R Identifying and selecting appropriate software programs for constructing text
	Year 4 Achievement Standard 				Receptive modes (listening, reading and viewing) By the end of Year 4, Students understand that texts have different structures depending on the purpose and audience. They explain how language features, images and vocabulary are used to engage the interest of audiences. They describe literal and implied meaning connecting ideas in different texts. They express preferences for particular texts, and respond to others' viewpoints. Students listen for key points in discussions. Productive modes (speaking, writing and creating) Students use language features to create coherence and add detail to their texts. They understand how to express an opinion based on information in a text. They create texts that show understanding of how images and detail can be used to extend key ideas. Students create structured texts to explain ideas for different audiences. They make presentations and contribute actively to class and group discussions, varying language according to context. They demonstrate understanding of grammar, select vocabulary from a range of resources and use accurate spelling and punctuation, editing their work to improve meaning.

				Understand that patterns of language interaction vary across social contexts and types of texts and that they help to signal social roles and relationships (ACELA1501)    W L S R	* Identifying ways in which cultures differ in making and responding to common requests, for example periods of silence, degrees of formality   	Present a point of view about particular literary texts using appropriate metalanguage, and reflecting on the viewpoints of others (ACELT1609)     W L S R	* Posing and discussing questions, such as ‘Should this character have behaved as they did?’, and beginning to make balanced judgments about the dilemmas characters face and relative merit and harm    	Clarify understanding of content as it unfolds in formal and informal situations, connecting ideas to students’ own experiences and present and justify a point of view (ACELY1699)    L S	* Asking specific questions to clarify a speaker’s meaning, making constructive comments that keep conversation moving, reviewing ideas expressed and conveying tentative conclusions
				Understand how to move beyond making bare assertions and take account of differing perspectives and points of view (ACELA1502)     W L S R	* Recognising that a bare assertion (for example ‘It’s the best film this level’) often needs to be tempered by: using the ‘impersonal it’ to distance oneself (for example ‘It could be that it is the best film this level’); recruiting anonymous support (for example ‘It is generally agreed that it is the best film this level.’); indicating a general source of the opinion (for example ‘Most critics agree that it is the best film this level.’); specifying the source of the opinion (for example ‘David and Margaret both agree that it is the best film this level’) and reflecting on the effect of these different choices  	Use metalanguage to describe the effects of ideas, text structures and language features on particular audiences (ACELT1795)   W L S R	* Orally, in writing or using digital media, giving a considered interpretation and opinion about a literary text, recognising that a student’s view may not be shared by others and that others have equal claims to divergent views    	Use interaction skills, for example paraphrasing, questioning and interpreting non-verbal cues and choose vocabulary and vocal effects appropriate for different audiences and purposes (ACELY1796)    L S	* Participating in pair, group, class and school speaking and listening situations, including informal conversations, discussions and presentations    * Using effective strategies for dialogue and discussion including speaking clearly and to the point, pausing in appropriate places for others to respond, asking pertinent questions and linking students’ own responses to the contributions of others    * Choosing vocabulary and sentence structures for particular purposes including formal and informal contexts, to report and explain new concepts and topics, to offer a point of view and to persuade others    * Experimenting with voice effects in formal presentations such as tone, volume, pitch and pace, recognising the effects these have on audience understanding
				Understand how texts vary in purpose, structure and topic as well as the degree of formality (ACELA1504)   W L S R	* Becoming familiar with the typical stages and language features of such text types as: narrative, procedure, exposition, explanation, discussion and informative text and how they can be composed and presented in written, digital and multimedia forms    	Recognise that ideas in literary texts can be conveyed from different viewpoints, which can lead to different kinds of interpretations and responses (ACELT1610)    W L S R	* Identifying the narrative voice (the person or entity through whom the audience experiences the story) in a literary work, discussing the impact of first person narration on empathy and engagement    * Examining texts written from different narrative points of view and discussing what information the audience can access, how this impacts on the audience’s sympathies, and why an author might choose a particular narrative point of view    	Use interaction skills, for example paraphrasing, questioning and interpreting non-verbal cues and choose vocabulary and vocal effects appropriate for different audiences and purposes (ACELY1796)    L S	* Participating in pair, group, class and school speaking and listening situations, including informal conversations, discussions and presentations    * Using effective strategies for dialogue and discussion including speaking clearly and to the point, pausing in appropriate places for others to respond, asking pertinent questions and linking students’ own responses to the contributions of others    * Choosing vocabulary and sentence structures for particular purposes including formal and informal contexts, to report and explain new concepts and topics, to offer a point of view and to persuade others    * Experimenting with voice effects in formal presentations such as tone, volume, pitch and pace, recognising the effects these have on audience understanding
				Understand that the starting point of a sentence gives prominence to the message in the text and allows for prediction of how the text will unfold (ACELA1505)   W L S R	* Observing how writers use the beginning of a sentence to signal to the reader how the text is developing (for example ‘Snakes are reptiles. They have scales and no legs. Many snakes are poisonous. However, in Australia they are protected’)  	Recognise that ideas in literary texts can be conveyed from different viewpoints, which can lead to different kinds of interpretations and responses (ACELT1610)    W L S R	* Identifying the narrative voice (the person or entity through whom the audience experiences the story) in a literary work, discussing the impact of first person narration on empathy and engagement    * Examining texts written from different narrative points of view and discussing what information the audience can access, how this impacts on the audience’s sympathies, and why an author might choose a particular narrative point of view     * Examining the narrative voice in texts from Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander traditions, which include perspectives of animals and spirits, about how we should care for the Earth, for example reflecting on how this affects significance, interpretation and response     	Plan, rehearse and deliver presentations for defined audiences and purposes incorporating accurate and sequenced content and multimodal elements (ACELY1700)      W R	* Planning a report on a topic, sequencing ideas logically and providing supporting detail, including graphics, sound and visuals to enhance audience engagement and understanding
				Understand how the grammatical category of possessives is signalled through apostrophes and how to use apostrophes with common and proper nouns (ACELA1506)   W R	* Learning that in Standard Australian English regular plural nouns ending in ‘s’ form the possessive by adding just the apostrophe (for example ‘my parents’ car’)   * Learning that in Standard Australian English for proper nouns the regular possessive form is always possible but a variant form without the second ‘s’ is sometimes found, for example ‘James’s house’ or ‘James’ house’  	Understand, interpret and experiment with sound devices and imagery, including simile, metaphor and personification, in narratives, shape poetry, songs, anthems and odes (ACELT1611)   W L S R	* Discussing how figurative language including simile and metaphor can make use of a comparison between different things, for example ‘My love is like a red, red rose’; ‘Tyger! Tyger! burning bright, In the forests of the night’; and how by appealing to the imagination, it provides new ways of looking at the world    * Investigating the qualities of contemporary protest songs, for example those about Indigenous peoples and those about the environment     	Identify and explain characteristic text structures and language features used in imaginative, informative and persuasive texts to meet the purpose of the text (ACELY1701)   W L S R	* Explaining how the features of a text advocating community action, for example action on a local area reservation issue, are used to meet the purpose of the text
				Investigate how the organisation of texts into chapters, headings, subheadings, home pages and sub pages for online texts and according to chronology or topic can be used to predict content and assist navigation (ACELA1797)     W R	NONE	Understand, interpret and experiment with sound devices and imagery, including simile, metaphor and personification, in narratives, shape poetry, songs, anthems and odes (ACELT1611)   W L S R	* Discussing how figurative language including simile and metaphor can make use of a comparison between different things, for example ‘My love is like a red, red rose’; ‘Tyger! Tyger! burning bright, In the forests of the night’; and how by appealing to the imagination, it provides new ways of looking at the world    * Investigating the qualities of contemporary protest songs, for example those about Indigenous peoples and those about the environment     	Navigate and read texts for specific purposes applying appropriate text processing strategies, for example predicting and confirming, monitoring meaning, skimming and scanning (ACELY1702)   R	* Bringing subject and technical vocabulary and concept knowledge to new reading tasks   * Selecting and using texts for their pertinence to the task and the accuracy of their information   * Using word identification, self-monitoring and self-correcting strategies to access material on less familiar topics, skimming and scanning to check the pertinence of particular information to students’ topic and task    * Reading a wide range of imaginative, informative and persuasive texts for pleasure and to find and use information
								Use comprehension strategies to analyse information, integrating and linking ideas from a variety of print and digital sources (ACELY1703)     W L S R	* Using research skills including identifying research purpose, locating texts, gathering and organising information, evaluating its relative value, and the accuracy and currency of print and digital sources and summarising information from several sources

Year 5			Understand the difference between main and subordinate clauses and that a complex sentence involves at least one subordinate clause (ACELA1507)   W L S R   * Knowing that complex sentences make connections between ideas, such as: to provide a reason, for example 'He jumped up because the bell rang.'; to state a purpose, for example 'She raced home in order to confront her brother.'; to express a condition, for example 'It will break if you push it.'; to make a concession, for example 'She went to work even though she was not feeling well.'; to link two ideas in terms of various time relations, for example 'Nero fiddled while Rome burned.'   * Knowing that a complex sentence typically consists of a main clause and a subordinate clause  	Create literary texts using realistic and fantasy settings and characters that draw on the worlds represented in texts students have experienced (ACELT1612)   W R	* Using texts with computer-based graphics, animation and 2D qualities, consider how and why particular traits for a character have been chosen   	Plan, draft and publish imaginative, informative and persuasive print and multimodal texts, choosing text structures, language features, images and sound appropriate to purpose and audience (ACELY1704)     R	* Using research from print and digital resources to gather and organise information for writing   * Selecting an appropriate text structure for the writing purpose and sequencing content according to that text structure, introducing the topic, and grouping related information in well-sequenced paragraphs with a concluding statement   * Using vocabulary, including technical vocabulary, appropriate to purpose and context   * Using paragraphs to present and sequence a text   * Using appropriate grammatical features, including more complex sentences and relevant verb tense, pronoun reference, adverb and noun groups/phrases for effective descriptions
			Understand how noun groups/phrases and adjective groups/phrases can be expanded in a variety of ways to provide a fuller description of the person, place, thing or idea (ACELA1508)   W L S R	Create literary texts that experiment with structures, ideas and stylistic features of selected authors (ACELT1798)   W R	* Drawing upon fiction elements in a range of model texts for example main idea, characterisation, setting (time and place), narrative point of view, and devices, for example figurative language (simile, metaphor, personification), as well as non-verbal conventions in digital and screen texts - in order to experiment with new, creative ways of communicating ideas, experiences and stories in literary texts
			Explain sequences of images in print texts and compare these to the ways hyperlinked digital texts are organised, explaining their effect on viewers' interpretations (ACELA1511)     W	* Interpreting narrative texts told as wordless picture books   * Identifying and comparing sequences of images revealed through different hyperlink choices     		Reread and edit student's own and others' work using agreed criteria for text structures and language features (ACELY1705)   W	* Editing for flow and sense, organisation of ideas and choice of language, revising and trying new approaches if an element is not having the desired impact
			Understand the use of vocabulary to express greater precision of meaning, and know that words can have different meanings in different contexts (ACELA1512)   W L S R	* Moving from general, 'all-purpose' words, for example 'cut', to more specific words, for example 'slice', 'dice', 'fillet', 'segment'  		Develop a handwriting style that is becoming legible, fluent and automatic (ACELY1706)  W	* Using handwriting with increasing fluency and legibility appropriate to a wide range of writing purposes

Year 5 Achievement Standard	Receptive modes (listening, reading and viewing)
	By the end of Year 5, students explain how text structures assist in understanding the text.
	They understand how language features, images and vocabulary influence interpretations of characters, settings and events.
	They analyse and explain literal and implied information from a variety of texts.
	They describe how events, characters and settings in texts are depicted and explain their own responses to them .
	Students listen and ask questions to clarify content .
	Productive modes (speaking, writing and creating)
	Students use language features to show how ideas can be extended.
	They develop and explain a point of view about a text selecting information, ideas and images from a range of resources .
	Students create a variety of sequenced texts for different purposes and audiences.
	They make presentations and contribute actively to class and group discussions, taking into account other perspectives.
	When writing, they demonstrate understanding of grammar, select specific vocabulary and use accurate spelling and punctuation, editing their work to provide structure and meaning.

Year 6 Achievement Standard 	Receptive modes (listening, reading and viewing)
	By the end of Year 6, students understand how the use of text structures can achieve particular effects.
	They analyse and explain how language features, images and vocabulary are used by different authors to represent ideas, characters and events.
	Students compare and analyse information in different texts, explaining literal and implied meaning.
	They select and use evidence from a text to explain their response to it.
	They listen to discussions, clarifying content and challenging others' ideas.
	Productive modes (speaking, writing and creating)
	Students understand how language features and language patterns can be used for emphasis.
	They show how specific details can be used to support a point of view.
	They explain how their choices of language features and images are used.
	Students create detailed texts, elaborating on key ideas for a range of purposes and audiences.
	They make presentations and contribute actively to class and group discussions, using a variety of strategies for effect.
	They demonstrate understanding of grammar, make considered choices from an expanding vocabulary, use, accurate spelling and punctuation for clarity and make and explain editorial choices.
